Foreword

"For God and Country"—It would be well for us Seniors who will be taking our places in society as the mothers, fathers, priests, and nuns of America, to make this our theme in life, as well as the theme for our 1956 Chimes.

This theme is symbolic also of our four years where we have learned to love God and to offer all our work, play, and prayers in His honor. We have experienced many lessons both in triumph and defeat, which have served their purpose by preparing us for life in society, and by helping us to become better citizens of our country.

Our high school years should serve as a foundation upon which we, the future leaders of society, build our lives. What could be a better way of commencing our future as men and women than by determining to devote our lives to "God and Country"?

Dedication

Being fully aware of our debt to the Most Reverend William J. Condon, Bishop of Great Falls, we—the seniors of 1956—wish to dedicate this annual to his Excellency. We all realize that it was through his efforts and sacrifices we have a school such as Central, which provides for us a thorough Catholic education. Because of his interest and devotedness, we, as future citizens, hope to serve better Our Lord and our country.

Our Chapel, where prayer and silence help us to live a life more closely united with God, and thus conform ourselves to His image.

God's chosen servants and . . .

Monsignor Eldon B. Schuster, Diocesan Superintendent of Catholic Schools, Reverend Harold Arbanas, and Reverend Patrick Donovan discuss the new addition to Central with His Excellency, William J. Condon, Bishop of Great Falls.

Father David E. Rosage, from Spokane, Washington, was the retreat master for the retreat which was held for juniors and seniors on February 7, 8, and 9. Days of recollection were held for the freshmen and sophomores on January 31 and February 1, conducted by Father Heretick.

Retreat — a time of prayer and silence when God's children grow closer to him.

The boys pictured above are the alternates and delegates selected by Central to attend Boys' State. They are John Huber, an alternate; Dick Lynch and Ron Haverlandt, delegates; and Dave Schaff, an alternate. Boys' State, which was held in Dillon last summer, has as its aim, the development of a thorough knowledge of the United States government and its operation.

and our country . . .

The six bundles of pep who lead Central's cheers at the football and basketball games are Barbara Jacobs, Sandra Strosnider, and Phyllis DeJana, who are shown in the front row, and Betsy Campbell, Mary Naughton, and Beverly Jacobs in the second.

The cheers for Central's JayVees are led by Patsy Naughton, Doris Olszewski, Patty Guthrie, and Catherine Skoveron.

Joan Drazich, right, the delegate from Central to Girls' State, is shown below discussing plans with Jane Horras, her alternate. Girls' State, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, was held in Billings last year, and Joan was one of the two Montana delegates selected to attend Girls' Nation in Washington, D. C.

The Cantores is a selected group of singers from the mixed chorus, who are asked to sing by various civic groups of the city. Practice is held once a week on Thursday nights. Director: Sister M. John.

The Girls' Choral Club, with accompanist Janet Wilkins, sings "Such Lovely Things" during the program presented by the Music Department.

The Pep Band, under the direction of Mr. Walter Porter, inspires school spirit during our games.

The mixed chorus, under the direction of Sister Mary John, sings "Gloria Patri".

The boys' glee club, with Janet Wilkins as accompanist, sings a German song entitled "Kathryn's Wedding Day".

"Arrangers' Holiday" is played by the C.C.H.S. concert band during the annual music show which is held in Central's gym. Director: Sister M. John.

Four seniors who attended the 1955 Senior ball are DeLyal Atchison, Amalie Nielsen, Ellen Martin and David Schaff. The Ball was held on November 25, at the Meadowlark Country Club. The theme: "Moments to Remember".

Under the sparkling stars "Americans in Paris" danced in the French atmosphere of the Junior Prom.

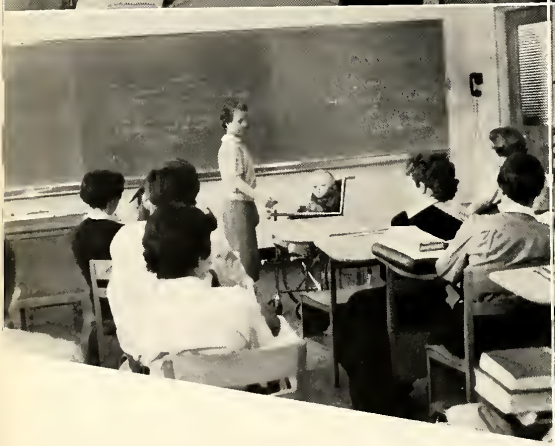
The aim of this club, the National Thespian Club, is to promote a widespread interest in drama and corresponding arts. The first elected officers are Keith Mora, President; Patricia Pizzini, Vice President; Mary Louise Pizzini, Secretary; and Bill Rutan, Treasurer.

Pictured here is the Thespian initiation held in Central's Library on February 19. Keith Mora is presenting a certificate of membership to Anne Steine while Patty Skites looks on.



The speech and drama department, with Sister Ruth Mary as its advisor, expanded its program this year. Besides the existing N. F. L. and the dramatics groups, the N. T. C. was activated, and two forensics classes were established—beginning forensics and advanced forensics.

To the right, the beginning forensics class is looking on as Jack Obstarczyk hands a certificate to Joyce Nardinger, who is practicing an acceptance speech.

The Debate Club holds its meetings once a week. The group, at left, is preparing the briefs and arguments for the national debate question, "Resolved: That governmental subsidies should be granted to all high school graduates who qualify for additional training". The President is Bill Rutan; Vice President, Bill Walsh; and Secretary-Treasurer, Lynne Jacques.

Pictured here are several inmates of the Cloisters, an exclusive home for the mentally ill. From left to right they are Patty Skites, who portrayed Florence; Noel Kelly, who was Hannibal; Bonnie Blanchette as Fairy May; and John Huber as Jeff.

"The Curious Savage" was presented by the dramatics department this fall and received many favorable comments. Starring in the play was Mary Louise Pizzini (above) who played the part of Mrs. Savage, an eccentric, but sane, widow. Her step-children were trying to commit her to an asylum for the insane in order to gain control of her money.

Here we see the entire Savage family with Mary Louise Pizzini as Mrs. Savage; Keith Mora as her step-son, Senator Titus; Mona Bryant as her step-daughter, the sophisticated Lily Belle; and Jeff Morrison as Judge Samuel Savage, her second step-son.

All of the inmates are gathered together to listen to an impromptu concert given by Hannibal, who thinks himself a great violinist. His audience, from left to right, consists of Florence, who is quieting the doll she believes to be her baby; Fairy May, who fancies herself a beautiful and talented woman; Mrs. Paddy, portrayed by Patricia Pizzini, who had been told to "shut up" by her husband sixteen years ago and hadn't spoken a word since then; and Jeff, who thought he had a terrible scar on his cheek, but in reality he was a talented pianist who was the sole survivor of a plane crash during the war.

Marylike. The Marylike campaign, which was started at Central last year, is being continued by the senior girls. Two Marylike style shows, one in November, and the other in March, were presented this year. The November style show stressed Marylike styles in formal wear.

Four of the dresses modeled in the Marylike Spring Style Show are displayed by Mary Naughton, Mary Alyce Petersmith, Jane Horras and Lois Julien, who are posing in Beckman's.

The angels, Barbara Jacobs, Barbara Hanna, and Mary Alyce Petersmith, kneel in adoration before the Christ Child in the scene from the Senior Christmas Assembly. Stephan Petrini portrays St. Joseph, and Terry Woody, Our Blessed Mother, in this year's skit, "The Small One".

Senior Assembly. An annual event of the school year is the Senior Assembly which usually presents a Nativity scene with a musical background of choral numbers by the class.

Chuck Holland, art editor; Patty Naughton and Barbara Koesler, feature editors, are consulting on the script to be used for the art work, while Mary Naughton, Kathy Koontz, and Amalie Nielson, make-up editors, are arranging the pictures in attractive displays.

The typists, Phyllis Zuhoski and Sandra Seifert, completing the class lists, while Collette Vacura, Patty Skites, and Roberta Wolff are sorting out the ping-pong pictures received from the underclassmen.

Mary Alyce Petersmith, Barbara Hanna, and Sharon Kohanek, business managers, are estimating the number of sponsorships received by the yearbook. Margie Nedved is typing the information for the sports section given her by Ray Heisler, sports editor.

Central's Mother's Club, under the direction of Monsignor Schuster, is one of the organizations to which the students of Central are deeply indebted. It has done much to provide the school with better facilities.

The athletic activities of Central are made possible as a result of the hard work and planning of the Round Table. Some of their fund-raising campaigns include handling games, putting on dances, sponsoring games between professional teams, and handling the tournaments when they are held in our gym.

The Mustangs worked vigorously to shape up for a nine-game schedule in a new and bigger league, known as the little ten.

Starting off the season, the Mustangs played a non-conference tilt with the "Saints" of Anaconda. They edged the Saints by a score of 20 to 14. The following week they played their "rivals," Fort Benton, at home and handed the tough Benton team a defeat of 27 to 0. The spirit being excellent, the Mustangs played their first Class A foe; they surprisingly trounced the Scotties 27 to 6. Next the team played Lewistown and defeated the Eagles by a margin of 13 to 7.

They then moved North to play the league leaders, Havre, and lost a hard fought game by a score of 20 to 2. Moving South, the Mustangs met the powerful Rams of Billings Central. Being outmanned, they went down with defeat by a margin of 35 to 19. Coming back to their home field, the Mustangs overran the Locomotives of Laurel by a score of 39 to 20. The Central team, playing its last out-of-town game, was upset by Sidney 13 to 7. The aggressive and powerful club ended their season at home against Miles City, with an impressive score of 50 to 6.

The Mustangs ended their first season with 4 wins and 3 losses. They were awarded fifth place. But they also won two non-conference games.

The Mustangs made their grand debut in the Class A football circle under the able coaching of Mr. Bill Mehrens. Before he began his coaching duties, Mr. Mehrens attended Carroll College where he graduated in 1955 with an A.B. in Social Science. He attended Lincoln High School, Seattle, and Butte Central. He was active in sports both in high school and in college where he played halfback on the football team. At the present time he also serves as a J. V. basketball coach and teaches social studies and physical education.

Coach "Swede" Beausoliel and Millett Keller

Mr. Hugh Beausoliel began his coaching here at C.C.H.S. in August of 1955 when he arrived to assist Mr. Bill Mehrens in football and to take up his duties as head basketball coach. A graduate of Anaconda Central, Mr. Beausoliel played end on the football squad and guard on the basketball team. Upon his graduation from Montana State University, where he received an A.B. degree, he served in the Navy for three and a half years. Besides his coaching duties here at Central, Mr. Beausoliel teaches biology and physical education.

Their last year of basketball, Dave Schaff, Henry Jensen, Dan Ryan, Tom Welch, and Ray Ranieri.

Girls' physical education, which was started at Central last year, is compulsory for all Freshman girls.

Sister Ruth Mary, class instructor, teaches the girls how to play dodge ball and . . .

helps them to develop rhythm, timing, and accuracy by means of the jump rope.

Basketball is one of the many games which are played by the members of the physical education class.
